LAUNCHMEN'S STRIKE.

POSITION UNCHANGED.

THE TOWING SERVICE.

The growing importance of the towing service organised by the Launch Committee cannot be overlooked. Up to the present it has been responsible for the engagement of fifteen crews. They are being used in essential services. It is significant that several men who have been on strike—whether members of the Guild or not it is impossible to say—have returned to work. The towing service is not confined to these particular launches, but these privately manned by the interested companies lend their services as occasion permits. In this way a service is being built up which is daily proving itself more efficient in meeting the harsh requirements.

NOTHING DOING.

The general strike position remains unchanged this morning. Delegates have not yet put in an appearance from Canton, where they went to consult their colleagues.

FERRIES HUNG UP.

There was a hitch in the ferry services this morning which caused considerable inconvenience to residents of the peninsula, some of whom were not able to get to Hongkong side before about 10 o'clock.

CORRESPONDENCE.

[To the Editor of the "China Mail."]

Sir—Accustomed as we are to seeing the China Mail take up the cudgels on behalf of the public it is a matter for surprise that attention has not been drawn to a crying need experienced by those who are at the present time faced with the problem of getting on the Kowloon ferries. It seems high time that some consideration was shown for the regular users of the ferries who find themselves every day engaged in a jostling crowd of Chinese who never come near the "Star" ferry in the piping times of industrial peace. Europeans, or at any rate European ladies, ought to be given first chance of getting a seat and the Chinese allowed on afterwards, if there is room. When the seamen's strike was on it was given out that if the ferry men came out only European would be catered for under any emergency arrangement. Personally, I think that plan should have been adopted in the present instance—at least it should be seen to that the Chinese are restricted to the third class section of the ferries.

Yours etc.,
PATRICK HAMILTON.

LAWN BOWLS ASSOCIATION.

CHAMPIONSHIP ENTRIES.

INTERPORT INVITATION ACCEPTED.

The Lawn Bowls Association met at the office of the Government Marine Surveyor, last evening. The chief business of the meeting was the draw for the championship, and presentations to returning officials. Mr. W. Russell was in the chair.

The Secretary, Mr. Tacchi, announced that there were 33 entries for the championship.

The draw resulted as follows:—
Byes—H. Overy, F. Allen, and Sercombe.

1st Round:—Gow—Guy; Mackay—Grimm; R. Duncan—R. J. Brown; Hunter—Whibley; Mair—Pattyjohn; Brown—Hill; McMurtrie—Gibson; McLeod—Chapman; W. Gerrard—Foulds; Ficker—Tacchi; Young—J. Russell; Drummond—Sara; Peller—F. Thompson; Stanley—J. C. Brown; Lapsley—R. Watt; G. Morrison—Roberson; Muir—Barr; G. Edwards—A. Davidson; W. Russell—Ferguson; Wallace—Grant; Simpson—Farrell; Wotherpoon—Bass; Parkes—Batem; Harvey—Omar; Pryce—Massey; Pile—McFarlane.

Byes—Roe, Atkinson, McLennan.

PRESENTATIONS.
Messrs. Dyer, Mody, and Harvey, who last year held the Offices of President, Vice-President and Chairman respectively, were then presented with gold medals.

The Chairman, in making the presentations, spoke in highly appreciative terms of the work the three recipients had done for the Club.

INTERPORT BOWLS.

The Secretary read a letter from the Shanghai Bowls Association inviting Hongkong to send up representatives for an Interport contest in September.

The meeting unanimously decided to accept the invitation.

This was followed by some discussion on rules, but nothing was done in this matter, except to authorise the Secretary to obtain rules governing league competitions at home.

The position of Tsikoo which has two teams in the league gave rise to a lengthy discussion, the point at issue being whether reserves were interchangeable.

The meeting decided that the 24 players registered could only play for one team, but reserves could play for either team, but not for more than two matches consecutively.

OLD MAN ATTACKED.

WEST POINT SHOOTING AFFAIR.

On May 8, the China Mail reported a shooting affair near the Sailors' Home, West Point, when an elderly Chinese, described at the time as a retired merchant, was shot through the arm.

The case had its sequel in Magistrate Lindell's Court yesterday afternoon when a young Chinese was charged on four counts (1) illegal possession of a knife; (2) shooting at the complainant, Pun Choi with intent to kill; (3) causing grievous bodily harm to Pun Choi; and (4) possession of a dagger. The last two charges were preferred against the defendant as alternatives to the other two.

According to the case for the prosecution as outlined by Inspector Kent, the complainant, who it is known now to be a rattan worker, was attacked by three or four young men on the night of May 8. When the men accosted the complainant, one of them pointed a revolver at his head. The complainant knuckled up the man's hand, and the revolver went off wounding him in the arm. The complainant ran in the direction of Water Street calling out "save life" and the four men dispersed. Sergt. Fallon who happened to be approaching in a ricksha heard the revolver shot, and seeing the defendant running, stopped him. When he was searched he had a dagger in his possession. The complainant collapsed in Water Street and was carried to No. 7 Police Station from where he was taken to the hospital in an ambulance. At the hospital he identified the defendant as one of his assailants.

Dr. D. J. Valentine said the complainant had three wounds, an entrance wound and an exit wound and a graze across the chest. All three could have been caused by one bullet. The wound in the arm would be permanent, and would affect the use of the man's arm.

The case was adjourned.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE REPORT.

The fortnightly Hongkong General Chamber of Commerce report states:—Cotton piece goods and fancy cotton goods.—There is a certain amount of inquiry for Fancy Goods and small sales are reported of White Brocades, Coloured Lastings, and Lawns, &c. In most cases buyers' ideas of prices are hopelessly below home pantries. Greys and Whites are entirely neglected. Clearances are fairly satisfactory.

OBITUARY.

FORMER QUEEN'S COLLEGE MASTER.

The Yellow Dragon, the magazine of Queen's College, record with regret the death in the antipodes of Mr. Benjamin James, B.A., Oxon., who for many years was closely identified with Queen's College. He came out in 1898, as an Assistant Master to Queen's College, but resigned in 1899, to take up an appointment in King's College, Bangkok, where he was tutor to the Siamese Princes.

In 1902, he returned to the Hongkong Education Department and was appointed Headmaster of Kowloon British School. For seven years he held this appointment, and for some time in addition to these duties, he held charge of Victoria British School. In December, 1910, Mr. James returned to Queen's College and was one of the senior assistant masters till 1914, when he was acting second master. In 1917 he went to Ellis Kadoorie School, where he remained until his retirement in 1918.

The s.s. "Haitan" put into port this morning after receiving a bad battering from a typhoon. The vessel was on a voyage from Hoihow and Haihong and on Thursday ran into very severe weather. In addition 200 pigs, part of the cargo of the ship were washed overboard.

"WHAT'S YOURS?"

Among drinkers Singapore is famous for its gin shings and Shanghai is remembered as the place that boasts the longest bar in the world—forty yards long. It is the pride and joy of the Shanghai Club. If there is one thing more than another that distinguishes Hongkong in the liquor line it must be the general preference for the Common or garden stengah. Connoisseurs who know a good brand when they taste one should be quick to appreciate the merits of W. and A. Gilbey's "Spey Royal" whisky which is being introduced to the notice of Hongkong by Messrs. A. S. Watson and Co. "Spey Royal" has been matured for over 10 years in Messrs. Gilbey's own excise bonded warehouses and has been specially stored in sherry casks. Experiments conducted on a sample bottle sent to the China Mail demonstrate that "Spey Royal" should have no difficulty in suggesting itself as the obvious answer to the popular "What's Yours?" query.

WEE WILLIE WINKIE.

"We Willie Winkie runs through the town,
Upstairs and downstairs in his night gown,
Rapping at the window, crying through the lock!"
"Are the children all a-bed? Past eight o'clock!"

This was the favourite song of two small boys and one day when they had sung it through several times Donald, the elder one, suddenly asked: "Why does Willie Winkie run through the town Mother? And why haven't I ever seen him?"

"Well it is like this," said his Mother. "You are always in bed and fast asleep when it is eight o'clock. Perhaps some of the bigger boys and girls have seen him. You had better ask them."

"Yes I will," said Donald thoughtfully. "But you have not told me yet why he runs through the town in his night gown. Why does he Mother?"

"In his night gown," piped little Graham, who always copied his big brother.

"I think," answered their mother, smiling at them both. "That Willie Winkie must have been a night watchman."

"What is that?" enquired Donald. "Years ago," his mother replied, "In every town there was a man who used to walk round the place at night calling out the hour."

"But what about Winkie?" Donald asked again.

"I think," went on his mother, lifting Graham on to her lap. "That he must have been a watchman for a very long time and that he was so fond of children that he had many friends amongst them. They used to peep out of the windows to see him coming by with his lantern on the dark winter nights and he would look up at their windows and laugh at them and call out 'Past eight o'clock. He liked them all to get into bed early because he knew that if they did not they would make everybody sad and themselves as well."

"Did he go on walking about the town like that until he was quite old?" asked Donald.

"Yes," replied his mother. "Until at last he grew so old that he could hardly walk and he knew that he would soon have to give up his work and stop at home and be looked after by his grandchildren."

"How many had he?" Donald put in again.

"Oh eleven or twelve," his mother laughingly said. "But they don't really come in the story, and when Donald exclaimed 'What a lot!' little Graham copied him as usual."

"And then?" Donald asked.

"And then," his mother continued, "A wonderful thing happened. A kind fairy who also was very fond of children thought what a pity it was that Willie Winkie should not be able to walk round the town and see them every night and so she changed him into a fairy watchman. She thought that he would like to be able to run about quickly again and she turned him into a little boy fairy."

"That is why he is called 'Wee Willie Winkie,'" enquired Donald.

"Yes, Wee Willie Winkie," agreed his mother. "If you look at pictures you will see that he is quite small and he wears a nightcap as well as a night gown. Of course only old people wear nightcaps but the fairy when she touched him with her magic wand forgot his nightcap and so that old part of him still remains. Wee Willie Winkie sleeps all day long and as soon as it is dark he jumps out of bed and as he runs about so fast he does not have to stop to get into any clothes but he always keeps warm. He starts running round the town, peeping at all his little friends and rapping."

"Why I heard something rapping at my window last night!" cried Donald. "Don't you remember Mother? You said that it must be a branch of the old tree!"

DRAGON BOAT RACES.

The fifth day of the fifth moon, the day fixed annually for the Dragon Boat Festival falls on Wednesday, May 31, this year.

The organisers of this annual sport have been busy making preparations, and a new item will be added to the programme this year. It will take the form of an invitation race for local rowing clubs. The clubs have been invited to enter gigs for a mile race, from the A.P.C. buoy to the Ming Yuen Gardens. The type of craft to be used in this race will be the ordinary 30 foot, six-oared gigs.

A first prize will be offered. Entries for the race will be received by Mr. F. P. E. James at the P.W.D. up to 8 p.m., on Monday, May 28.

Lieut. Bailey, R.N., Warrant Officers McGrain and Jenkinson, and Mr. F. P. E. James and Mr. F. H. Dillon of the P.W.D., have agreed to co-operate with the Chinese Race Committee as judges and time-keepers.

"So I did," she admitted. "I was not thinking about Wee Willie Winkie just then. But now trot off boys or it really will be past eight o'clock and then I should have two tired and cross laddies to-morrow and Winkie would be very sad!"

THE GAME OF JINGLER.

Do you know how to play "Jingler, where are you?" One of the players is blindfolded with a handkerchief, another takes a handbell and is the Jingler.

The "blind" player goes round saying "Jingler where are you?" In answer the Jingler rings the bell. The blind one follows the sound and the Jingler dodges away. If the blind one catches him they change places.

WATERING MY GARDEN.

This year because I'm growing big I have a garden where I dig And sow all kinds of seeds, And though I don't get many flowers I work in it for hours and hours And pull up all the weeds.

It isn't very large you know, I sow my seeds just in a row And have to squash them up. And some I had to put in twice, I found them—oh it wasn't nice All scratched up by my pup!

At morning time and after tea, I water them so carefully, Nurse says I make a mess, She says my shoes are always damp And I shall get a cold and cramp, It's true I must confess.

I fetch the water from the pump, It springs out with an awful jump Into my watering can, But all my seeds must have a drink, I don't think Nurse's stop to think, It's 'noying for a man.

PETER PAN.

What wig can no barber make? An earwig.

BASE BALL.

THIS AFTERNOON'S GAME.

A slight change has been made in the scheduled arrangements for the initial Baseball game of the Season, which will take place at the Hongkong Football Club grounds at Happy Valley this afternoon. Instead of the Hongkongites playing the Kowloon aggregation, the available candidates have been divided into two camps, one of which has assumed the name of the "Giants" and will be captained by E.E. Brown, while the other known as the "Yankees," will be captained by H. J. Koch.

Interest in the American and Canadian communities is running high and there is sure to be a considerable amount of "rooting" for the adherents of the two teams. Inasmuch as this will be the first opportunity this season for the "rooters" to see their old favourites as well as the new men in action, it is expected that a large crowd will turn out.

During the past week, the new grandstand capable of holding from 500 to 1000 people has been completed and the grounds have been smoothed out considerably. New equipment has been purchased for the team and although the new suits which have been ordered will not be available in time, both sides should take the appearance of real ball teams on the field.

Doctor Urquhart will umpire balls and strikes and Doctor Daugherty who is temporarily out of the game owing to an injured wrist, will call decisions on the bases.

The division of the two teams together with their probable line ups are as follows:—

ARMED ROBBERIES AGAIN.

Robbers raided a house in Park Street at 8.15 last night and made a haul of jewellery worth $278. A Chinese married woman was sitting in the front part of the house, on the ground floor, when suddenly the street door which was not locked, was pushed open and five men rushed in. She called out whereupon one of the men pointed a dagger at her and ordered her to keep quiet. Her husband's concubine who rushed out from an inner room to see what was the matter, was promptly covered with a revolver by one of the other men. The robbers relieved the mistress of a pair of gold bangles and a pair of gold mounted rattan bangles. From the concubine they took another pair of gold mounted bangles. Not satisfied with their haul, the robbers took the mistress' keys and opening up several boxes, took several gold rings, a pair of gold bangles and $100 in notes which were contained in a white metal jewel box, which they also carried away. All five men made good their escape.

Uncle Sam's newest giant aircraft is nearing completion at New Haven, Conn. As shown above, the Craft is an exact replica of the Zodiac, purchased by this Government from France. This ship, the largest non-rigid air giant ever constructed in America, is 260 feet long, 50 feet high and 38 feet wide. Its speed will be 60 miles per hour inflated with 328,000 cubic feet of helium or hydrogen, and it will carry a crew of 25 men.

TOP HAT DIPLOMACY.

ESOTERIC SIGNIFICANCE OF HEADGEAR.

It is odd that Mr. Churchill and M. Tchitcherine should have chosen the same day on which to astonish their friends by appearing in top hats. The psychological affinity which, as we have pointed out before, so evidently exists between Mr. Churchill and the Bolsheviks, may be regarded by some people as sufficient to account for the coincidence; but we prefer to think that it has a more definite and profound symbolic significance. You cannot think of a parallel as a man whose silk hat is as glossy as your own. On M. Tchitcherine's side at least the concession is a real one; his surrender to bourgeois fashion, and is intended to be, a symbol of the readiness of his government to make large concessions to the principles of bourgeois finance. Such trifles may not be so trifling as they seem. Mr. Lloyd George has been in favour of friendly relations with the Bolsheviks ever since the days of Phipps in 1918 and it should be noted that normally he dresses handsomely and carefully than they do; for the two facts are undoubtedly connected. After all the main obstacle to a resumption of normal relations between Western Europe and the Russian Republic has been a prejudice no better founded nor more deeply rooted than the prejudice in favour of conventional garb on ceremonial occasions. Our Churchill usually ascribes their former of Bolsheviks to the bloody deeds which are attributed to them. But those are not its real basis—for Mr. Churchill himself stood beside the "murderers." Its real basis—for it is perfectly genuine sentiment—is far deeper and more unresolvable than that. The only sentiment with which it can be exactly compared is the horror which we might feel of a man who attend a London wedding in a tweed cap.

Hence the appearance of M. Tchitcherine's silk hat may be regarded as marking an epoch in European history—the surrender of the Bolsheviks to the psychological force majeure of Western civilization. Whether that surrender is to be recorded as a tragedy or a triumph is a question which each observer of the European scene must answer for himself. For our part we cannot help feeling that it contains something of both. It is said that the economic idealism of the Bolsheviks should be to hopelessly at variance with the common necessities of national and international finance; but it is certainly satisfactory that the men who are ruling Russia should have recognized these necessities and thus made it possible for us to look forward to the early re-incorporation of Russia in the economic system of Europe. The Bolsheviks are now prepared to wear top hats and to pay their debts—or perhaps we should say, to acknowledge their debts: for the actual payment of the vast sums which Russia owes to France and Great Britain is likely to prove quite as difficult and quite as inconvenient as the payment of German reparations or the repayment of inter-Alleed loans. M. Tchitcherine has, as it were, lifted his hat in formal acknowledgment of his country's obligation—as demanded by the Cannes resolutions—and there, we may take it, the matter will end. France can hardly press the point without Great Britain's consent since she owes more than Russia owes her.—New Statesman.
